

FEAR BRITISH ALSO WILL PUT BAR ON JAPANESE

Leading Citizens of Empire Summarize Relations With America
DECLARE WAR IMPOSSIBILITY
But Demand Japan Be Given Free Rein in Orient

THEO. OCT. 3.—The Associated Press—An inquiry into the situation between Japan and the United States by the trend of events in modern Japan, but which may not be characterized as official, has evolved the following as summarizing the situation growing out of the proposed California anti-Japanese measures.

First, a genuine feeling of apprehension prevails over the anti-Japanese movement in the United States because of the fear that the United States is being drawn into a conflict with Japan, which is not in the interest of the United States.

Second, the Japanese content that if the Japanese question in California is left alone it will settle itself, because when the present settlers who cannot be naturalized either die or return to Japan only their legal American posterity will remain, who in the course of generations will be assimilated.

Third, the Japanese content that America is confining the present negotiations, which are aimed at protecting the acquired rights of the Japanese now in California with the general question of immigration, which is not involved.

Fourth, the Japanese maintain that the passage of the measure would add fuel to the anti-American sentiment created by American blockading of Japan, and that the Japanese call their legitimate and necessary expansion in the Far East, especially in China and Siberia. This sentiment is being steadily cultivated by anti-Japanese articles in the Japanese newspapers.

Fifth, this genuine alarm of the anti-Japanese movement abroad, the leading Japanese secretly are disturbed at the growth of the anti-Japanese movement at home arising from the dissatisfaction of the people over the economic and political conditions and poverty in large cities; the discontent of laborers resulting from the absorption of social capital from the west; inability to capitalism; lack of suitable opportunity for personal progress and a tendency to blame the nation for the poverty of the masses.

Sixth, China remains Japan's greatest hope and her greatest peril. Japan must find an outlet and opportunities for her population which is increasing at the rate of 700,000 yearly," said one official.

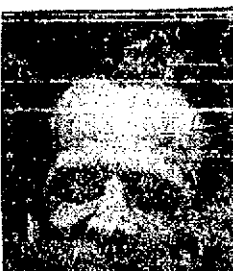

Seventh, to a direct question put by a correspondent whether it was a possibility, that the anti-Japanese movement in California was a prelude to a general anti-Japanese movement in the United States, the answer was that it was a possibility, but that it was not a certainty.

The importance that Japan gives to China is evidenced in a review of Japanese and American relations appearing in the Herald of Asia, a weekly of London. It states that the Japanese are determined to maintain the California measure, based on prejudice, based on difference in race, religion and culture, the Japanese declare, and that the attitude toward America is not confined to all the white peoples. The greater the conflict Americans had with the Japanese and other races, the more they sharpened the points of difference and sharpened the edge of prejudice and dislike, this organ says.

After declaring that the possible compromise on the California question could appreciably remove the fundamental causes for which it exists, the organ says that the Japanese are determined to maintain the California measure, based on prejudice, based on difference in race, religion and culture, the Japanese declare, and that the attitude toward America is not confined to all the white peoples. The greater the conflict Americans had with the Japanese and other races, the more they sharpened the points of difference and sharpened the edge of prejudice and dislike, this organ says.

The newspaper charges that the Americans think that they are advancing their own interests and that they are not considering the interests of the Japanese. It says that one day China will awaken to what it terms the "American imperialism" and that the Japanese are determined to maintain the California measure, based on prejudice, based on difference in race, religion and culture, the Japanese declare, and that the attitude toward America is not confined to all the white peoples. The greater the conflict Americans had with the Japanese and other races, the more they sharpened the points of difference and sharpened the edge of prejudice and dislike, this organ says.

Earnings Divided Among Players, Club Owners and Commission
Second and Third Teams in Pennant Race to Get Portion

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Division of the thousands of dollars paid by baseball fans to witness the world's series games is among the topics of greatest interest to the division of any large sum of money. The regulations under which the money of the world's series is at present divided has become a matter of interest to the players, club owners and the commission.

The first provision in the contract of the first base ball players is that the division of the money of the world's series is at present divided has become a matter of interest to the players, club owners and the commission.

There are certain regulations for the division of the money of the world's series, but which are not generally understood and which can be illustrated better by figures than by words.

The money in the players' pool would be divided as follows: The first place team would receive 25 percent, the second place team 20 percent, the third place team 15 percent, and the fourth place team 10 percent.

HER PICTURE. It may be just a little print. Quite faded out and old. Or it may be a costly thing. Cut into burnished gold. It may be spotted by a stain. With tears that stand for years. But it's the shield that guards a man. And brings him home again. Perhaps it's just a bit of sky. The likeness of a loved one's face. But it can be the truest star. A shining through terror's night. Perhaps the bulk of it is small. A tiny paper square. But it can be the source of light. That makes a man flatter. It may be just a memory. Of voices through the dark. Or it may be the glimpse of a face in the night. Oh, it may be a breath of prayer. A symbol or a charm. But it's the love that walks beside. That keeps a man from harm. —Margaret E. Sangster in Christian Herald.

FRIENDSHIP. Old friendships that have stood the test of years. And not grown dim. Are like the miracle with which our God endures. The nature gray and the tender. Repeating o'er and o'er His promise. True friendship is a mark of greatness. Within the soul of man. There's naught that man may know more fair. Nay, nothing lovelier than the light of friendship's star. —H. R. Gwynne in Christian Herald.

GOING. Teacher: Why, the word "going" is in a sense, to go. Willie: The boy went to school, and when he returned his mother found that he had gone. —September 1920.

GOOD BREATHING LECTURE THEME

Dr. Emily Noble Speaks on Cure for Human Ills

Restoration of normal respiration as a cure for many of the ills of the flesh formed the subject of an illustrated lecture at the First Presbyterian church last night. The speaker was Dr. Emily Noble, who gives a special study of the subject.

Dr. Noble declared that much of the nervous trouble among children is due to bad respiratory functioning, and the new feature of restoring mankind to perfect health was in restoring the normal functioning of breathing. The microphone, which turns illustrated the results of the new teaching in restoring children to better health.

The method employed, she declared, was quite natural, and was accomplished without formal teaching. She showed how people could restore their normal breathing every morning. In sleep, she said, this normal breathing was suspended.

Dr. Noble is the founder of the Twentieth Century Children's Crusade, and claims that her teachings have been adopted in many schools throughout the country. She has studied both in the United States and abroad, and is noted as a writer and lecturer.

LOADED AUTOS BRING MEMBERS

Auto Sunday proved a success at the First Christian church yesterday. Each member who owned an automobile was called on to bring the machine to the church loaded to its capacity, and the result is reported to have been beyond expectations.

The morning service was crowded, and the congregation was treated to an elaborate musical program. In the evening an evangelistic service was held.

One of the special attractions at the morning service was the singing of Miss Edith Harvey, who contributed several numbers. Miss Harvey leaves for New York soon to continue her studies in music.

Dr. Breeden preached an appropriate sermon on "Walking With God," and in the evening he spoke on "The Good Man Becomes a Christian."

Giving and Getting

"It isn't what you give, but what you get, that counts." —Painless Parker.

Cheap suits and hats may suit some people, because they can throw them away and buy better, but cheap dentistry often means serious injury to the teeth and health. Cheap prices mean cheap, careless work. In dentistry they also mean suffering, dissatisfaction, humiliation and poor health as well as the expense of having the work done over, if it can be. Often the injury is permanent.

Dental work done under the E. R. Parker System at a fair price is as good as can be had anywhere at any price. You can't get more by paying more, but you surely will get less if you pay less.

When you think of TEETH, think of PARKER.

It may be just a little print. Quite faded out and old. Or it may be a costly thing. Cut into burnished gold. It may be spotted by a stain. With tears that stand for years. But it's the shield that guards a man. And brings him home again. Perhaps it's just a bit of sky. The likeness of a loved one's face. But it can be the truest star. A shining through terror's night. Perhaps the bulk of it is small. A tiny paper square. But it can be the source of light. That makes a man flatter. It may be just a memory. Of voices through the dark. Or it may be the glimpse of a face in the night. Oh, it may be a breath of prayer. A symbol or a charm. But it's the love that walks beside. That keeps a man from harm. —Margaret E. Sangster in Christian Herald.

WRAPPED UP IN ITSELF

Teacher: Who can tell me what a cow's skin is used for?
Boy's Life.

A SHIRT TALE.
The weatherman was talking in one of his tenderfoot accents, "You will have to make your own way in the world some day. Do you know the meaning of energy and enterprise?"
"No, sir," replied the tenderfoot, "don't believe I do."

"Well, I tell you, one of the richest men in the world came in this city with a shirt on his back, and now he has millions."
"The tenderfoot looked puzzled. "Millions" he repeated in wonderment. "Why, how many does he wear at a time?" September Boys' Life.

OVERTIME.
Tenderfoot: When the clock strikes thirteen, what time is it?
Seaweed: Guess: I really don't know.
Tenderfoot: Time for the clock to be fixed.—September Boys' Life.

REUNION AIRS, Oct. 2.—Honorable, the foreign minister, resigned his office today and dispatched orders to demand satisfaction from Senator Villanova. Because of sentimentalism in the senate yesterday the foreign minister had "appeared a falsehood over his signature."

HOT.
Jim: My neighbors are mad today.
Jack: How is that?
Jim: Why, I left them in front of a fire, and they lost their temper.—September Boys' Life.

BIG DROP ON EYEGLASSES

By Dr. Kearns

Don't let opticians tell you Kryptos. Invisible. Bifocals. Lenses can't be sold at $8.50 per pair. There is a fair profit in it at that price. Dr. Kearns will personally examine your eyes free and guarantee every lens. Dr. Kearns' eyeglasses have stood the test for 25 years; thousands are wearing them. Represent the last word in optical science. They are carefully fitted and perfectly adapted to your vision—and think of what you can save.

TO OPEN COURSE IN INDUSTRIES

American Colleges to Train Business Managers

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A course in management education to provide a sufficient number of properly trained executives for the industries of the United States is to be established in a majority of the 429 American colleges and universities in an arrangement made by the Associated Press here today by Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council, and Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council, and Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council.

The plan, an outgrowth of a conference attended by representatives of industry and education in Philadelphia last March, is to establish a course in management education in a majority of the 429 American colleges and universities in an arrangement made by the Associated Press here today by Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council, and Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council, and Dr. H. H. Goddard, president of the United States Educational Council.

The Council of Management Education, which has been formed, is to be a clearing house for all industrial and educational matters in the country, to promote the mutual understanding of the industrial and educational communities and to keep the industrial and educational communities in touch with each other.

An annual appropriation of $100,000, entirely borne by American industry, has been made to carry on its work, which has been divided into two classes: first, to determine the needs of industry, and second, to provide the means for meeting these needs.

All of the colleges and universities in the country are to be asked to participate in the work, which has been divided into two classes: first, to determine the needs of industry, and second, to provide the means for meeting these needs.

Kemp was competing for a prize offered by an American music publisher of Chicago. During the contest he played about every song on the market and finished with the British national anthem.
